Hope's White Way Time Is Close When It Must Be Replaced

To the nighttime air traveler Hope is the best lighted city in Arkansas — but our reputation costs us a severe municipal headache. Every time there's a rain the underground wiring shorts out in some part of the White Way system.

Yesterday the municipal plant crew was busy tearing up the pavement on East Second st., and by late afternoon the boys had themselves a good-size trench — into which Plant Manager Clyde Zinn was peering darkly.

It hadn't rained the last few days, but I did recall a string of street lights had been out in the Walnut-Second street area — and when I inquired I found my guess was correct: They were looking for an ailing streetlight circuit.

Our White Way system looked like a swell job when it was put in years ago. But depreciation turns into obsolescence pretty quickly when you go underground in this sticky soil. And measured by the unkept cost I suspect our White Way System is about through.

There may have been some fault in the laying of the underground circuits, but the soil here in Hope has made monkeys out of a lot of men besides electricians. The Star built what it thought was a waterproof press pit when we bought our present building in 1932; but it leaked anyway and we had to install a pump.

We were consoled, however, when older citizens told us that the federal boys who came down here to put up the post office many years earlier scoffed at the idea that a basement was impractical. "We'll build a basement, and it won't leak," said the visiting firemen. But it leaked, and now the post office has a pump just like this house of private enterprise.

But new materials and new methods claim to have whipped the underground water problem in recent years. Unfortunately it costs a lot of money to start over again from scratch — whether it's the post office basement, the newspaper press pit, or the city's White Way.

But only one of these has to shine at night.

Fire Causes $500,000 Loss at Ft. Roots

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Fire that routed more than 2,000 patients from their beds in 13 buildings at Fort Roots Veterans Hospital last night did an estimated damage of more than $500,000.

E. L. Wilbur, assistant manager of the hospital said it would cost "roughly" $450,000 to replace the occupational therapy building, which was destroyed, and would cost about $15,000 to replace the machinery that was lost in the blaze.

The buildings is a total loss except for the basement and the foundation, Wilbur said.

Apparently there were no injuries. The building was used only during the day for occupational therapy shops, classes and manual training.

Firemen fought a winning battle against the possibility of acetylene-oxygen tanks exploding. They soaked the basement floor, where the tanks were stored and worked to prevent falling wreckage from setting off a blast. The gas was used in mental working.

The fire was first noticed about 9:20 p. m. By the time North Little Rock firemen arrived the flames were licking skyward about 100 feet and blowing over the 1,000 persons who were watching.

Four companies from the North Little Rock Fire Department along with the hospital's fire-fighting team, fought the blaze. They had it under control about 11:15 p. m. — about 2 hours after it broke.

Virgil Kaykendall, a hospital aide in charge of 120 men in a building across the street from the burning structure, reported that one person suffered a slight heart attack when he saw the flames.

The flames at the hill-top hospital were visible over most of Little Rock.

Eden, Molotov Meet Again, Talks Bogged

By EDD YGILMORE

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Russia's V. M. Molotov met in a hurriedly arranged private session today as the Geneva conference appeared moving rapidly toward a breakdown.

The Soviet foreign minister requested the meeting as the 18 nations which fought in Korea on the United Nations side drafted a declaration saying further talks on Korean unification were useless at this time.

The 18 planned to present the statement at a session of the 10 nation Korean conference this afternoon. The U. N. allies want to refer the Korean issue back to the international organization.

Authoritative quarters said the U. N. Korean allies agreed unanimously this morning that today's session would be the final one on Korea.

In London, Prime Minister Churchill presided over a Cabinet meeting to decide British policy in the light of the apparent failure of the East West talks Reports from Eden and Field Marshal Sir John Harding chief of the Imperial General Staff, were laid before the Cabinet. Harding headed the British delegation in a recent five power parley in Washington on the question of a defense line in South east Asia against further Communist encroachment.

Worst Heat Wave of Season Hits

By United Press

A muggy heat wave, the season's worst broiled most of the nation's eastern half for the third straight day today.

Possible relief was on the way, however, as a cold front moved across the Central Plains. It dropped temperatures 10 to 20 degrees and a squall line advancing ahead of it stirred up violent storms.

However the cool air wasn't expected to reach the central mid-west until tomorrow, and forecasters said it may have lost a lot of its strength by that time.

It was moving at a 15-mile-an-hour pace today after cooling Nebraska South Dakota, Western Kansas Wyoming and Eastern Colorado.

The heat wave broke records for the second straight day yesterday and threatened to repeat the performance today. Chicago, where the mercury hit 95 had its second straight record-breaker and its fourth day of over-80 degree temperatures.

The storms hit hardest at Texas. A tornado swept rangeland near Crane and a wind rain and hail storm ripped off the top of a huge oil tank near Midland, spewing oil as far as two miles.

At Stanton Tex. winds bent a flag pole into the shape of a horseshoe, and half an inch of rain fell on Big Springs, Tex. in 15 minutes. Storms in Western and Northwest Oklahoma shut down wheat harvests.

Nebraska and Kansas were also drenched with heavy rains as was Miami, Fla. with 1.70 inches.

The only large area where fair weather prevailed was from New Mexico to Southern California. In the Pacific northwest rain fell from Northern California to Washington.

Young Formally Takes Over

By STEVEN V. DAVID

NEW YORK (AP) — The new regime of Robert R. Young basked today in the formidable task of running the nation's second largest railroad, the far-flung New York Central system.

Young and his board took over yesterday, an hour after they were officially proclaimed winner by 1,064,000 shares in their proxy battle against former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who died 11 days ago.

The new board quickly elected Young as chairman — at $1 a year — and named Alfred E. Perlman 51-year-old executive vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande Western as president and chief executive officer.

Charges Laid to Ex-Governor Hoffman

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Sixteen charges of misconduct including a false bank deposit of $300,000 in state funds were made today against former Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who died 11 days ago.

Democratic Gov. Robert A. Meyner announced the charges at a special press conference today on the heels of a disclosure by Hoffman's daughter that her father had admitted embezzling $300,000 to finance his political campaigns and to pay off a blackmailing state official.

Hoffman, a Republican who served as governor of New Jersey from 1935 to 1938 was under suspension as director of the state's Division of Employment Security at the time of his death. The division had handled a billion dollars in unemployment funds since Hoffman took over the post some 15 years ago.

The charges covered many of Hoffman's activities as employment security director Meyner said.

Atty. Gen. Grover C. Richman told 16 newsmen Hoffman falsely certified to the state treasurer in 1951 and 1952 the $300,000 in state disability fund money was on deposit at the South Amboy Trust Co., which Hoffman headed.

A total of $1,200,000 in state funds was listed as deposited in the bank in Hoffman's hometown.

Three top division employees were suspended as a result of the probe of the division the governor announced. A fourth employee resigned.

Meyner, Richman and State Commissioner of Banking and Insurance Warren Gaffney said they have not yet determined how the 1949 deposit affects $300,000 Hoffman confessed he embezzled prior to 1938.

Richman said the three persons suspended would face a public hearing before Meyner or someone designated by him Aug. 18.

Malvern police said Jones' car collided with a truck driven by E. W. Downs of Hope. Jones was thrown from the auto and under the rear wheels of the large trailer-truck. He was taken to the Hot Springs County Memorial Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Pink Boll Worm Research to Be Studied

With the pink bollworm now a definite threat to this area, cotton farmers will join fruit and vegetable growers at the Fruit and Truck Crop Branch Experiment Station at Hope on June 25, to see what's new in research.

County Agent Oliver L. Adams announced this week that here will be something of interest for every member of the farm family as the Station holds its 26th annual Family Visiting Day.

The program will get under way at 9:30 a. m. with a riding tour of the experimental farm. Dr. Charles Linn, head of the entomology department at Fayetteville, will bring farmers up to date on the latest developments in control of pink bollworm, boll weevil, and other cotton insects.

A "pasture dream" experiment with oats, wheat, barley, and rye will be on exhibit, with R. D. Stanton, of the agronomy department and Wheeler R. Perkins, Extension district agent, in charge.

Latest research work with tomatoes, cucumbers, and watermelons will be discussed by Earl J. Allen, Extension horticulturist. Another vegetable stop will feature peas, okra, and snap beans, with explanations by Dr. John L. Bowers of the College horticulture department.

Home Demonstration Agent Lorraine B. Wylie called attention to the special demonstration for farm women, to be held on the Station campus between 11 a. m. and 1 p. m. They will include rice cookery, control measures for diseases and insects of roses and other ornamentals, and a craft demonstration of ball point painting. This phase will be handled by H. C. Stump, manager of the Arkansas Rifle Uro-motion Association. Gordon Barnes, Extension Entomologist; Dr. Hurlan E. Smith, Extension plant pathologist; and Mrs. John V. Keck, of Hempstead County, respectively.

Lunch will be served at noon by the Hempstead County Home Demonstration Council, with the assistance of Mr. Stump. This will be followed by a program of entertainment and speaking. Dr. James H. Hilton, president of Iowa State College, will give the main talk. He will be introduced by Dean Lippert S. Ellis.

The Extension agents also announced that the annual Negro Visiting Day will be held at the Hope station on June 26. The research display of the previous day will be repeated. The afternoon speaker will be Dr. L. A. Davis, President of Arkansas A. M. & N. College at Pine Bluff.

French Plight Politically Still Unsolved

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — France's current political crisis spelled new trouble today for the long delayed European army treaty. The controversial pact in turn posed a major problem for Premier-Designate Pierre Mendes-France or anyone else trying to succeed ousted Premier Joseph A. Laniel and his Cabinet resigned after losing a National Assembly vote of confidence on Indochina Saturday, Mendes-France whose criticism of government policy in Indochina was a major factor in Laniel's fall, accepted the mandate to form a cabinet yesterday. He is slated to seek confirmation before the Assembly tomorrow or Thursday.

His chances were considered slight. A big factor is the bad split in the Chamber over the scheduling of debate on ratification of the European Defense Community (EDC) pact, which has been languished in committee for more than two years.

Any successor to Laniel needs the support of both the Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP) and the Union for Republican and Social Action (URAS) (the latter made up of followers of Gen. De Gaulle. The MRP wants the army treaty debated as quickly as possible; the Gaullists bitterly opposed it. The EDC pact will fight any attempt to force debate.

70 Escape in Crash of DC4 in Oklahoma

GAGE, Okla. (UP) — Seventy eight persons escaped death today when a DC4 plane with one of its four engines on fire groped through a thunderstorm to an emergency landing here.

None of the 75 passengers or three crew members of the Great Lakes airlines flight was hurt, although most of them were badly frightened as they climb out of the burning plane.

As the fire trailing craft rolled down the 56,000 foot emergency runway at the Gage Municipal Airport, its landing gear collapsed and threw the plane over on its right side. Most of the DC4 was destroyed by flames but not until after the passengers and crew had crawled out. The passengers lost their baggage, but no one was complaining.

The culture of Laos and Cambodia in Indochina are related to those Thailand, Burma and ancient India while that of the Viet Nam area is related to China.

Second Figure Sought in Kidnap Case

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — Authorities indicated today that he recovery of the $75,000 ransom money in the Evelyn Smith kidnaping does not close the case.

They said they are still "looking around" for a second possible suspect, and added there may be more in this case than appears on the surface.

The $75,000 ransom was discovered yesterday in the Superstition Mountains only 100 yards away from the spot where suspect Daniel Marsin, 41 was captured Friday. Marsin has refused to confirm or deny whether he abducted Mrs. Smith, 23-year-old wife of a wealthy industrialist and held her for ransom. But Mrs. Smith has identified him as the man who held her on a mountain ranch last Wednesday night and Thursday until her husband arrived with the ransom money.

"We know we have a good strong case against Marsin," Maricopa County Attorney William P. Mahoney, Jr. said. "But that doesn't mean we're not looking around. There may be more in this case than appears on the surface."

Absolutely Permanence Is Too Much to Ask, Why Not Live by Road and Be a Friend to Man?

By CHARLES MERCER

For HAL BOYLE

GLEN RIDGE, N. J. (UP) The spot where I am writing this may some day be in the middle of six-lane highway. Or maybe it will be beside the highway. Or maybe the highway will be a block away. And possibly the highway never will come this way at all.

The spot is my desk in our house.

After I got out of the Army in 1946 we lived in furnished rooms while we hunted and hunted for a home. The places we could afford we did not like, and the places we liked we could not afford.

Then, one Sunday afternoon in 1947 we saw The House. The land curved around it and nine big oaks stretched their arms about it and in Little Rock, death was due to a heart attack. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

A. E. Slusser plucked a pheasant out of the air yesterday and would like to find the bird's owner.

Dr. Lile who in turn told Mr. Slusser — a group tried to catch it as the bird walked across the MOP tracks but it flew into a tree.

They flushed it out and Mr. Slusser simply jumped into the air and caught the pheasant as it flew by — something that probably will never happen again.

It's a nice, fat hen and Mr. Slusser would like to find the owner, otherwise he and Dr. Lile will enjoy a fine meal.

Last year Reece Chambliss, with the help of Fred Gresham, caught a big gar in Little Rock. The helping landed Fred with a 130-pound, 80 inches long and was five and a half feet long. In the first report I had it had already grown a foot.

Jerry Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Jones of Hope, is now working in Sen. John L. McClellan's office in Washington, D. C. having returned last week.

Mrs. Howard Prichard, Hempstead County Librarian, left today for Little Rock to join a party of librarians who will attend the national convention of the American Library Association in Minneapolis.

Traveling by bus the group will visit libraries in St. Louis, Chicago and opening of new plants of the Hertzberg-New Method Book Bindery, Inc. of Jacksonville, Ill. today.

Churchill, Eden Like to Talk Over Asia Crisis

WASHINGTON (UP) — Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will confer next week, presumably at the crisis Southeast Asia and the failure of Geneva to check Red advances in Indochina.

The White House in a totally expected announcement said today the conference with the British officials will take place at the White House over the weekend starting June 25. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will participate.

President Truman said Secretary Dulles will participate in the "an informal meeting" with the British officials. But it appears obvious the "big two" statements will give serious attention to the growing grave Communist threat in Southeast Asia, the evident failure of the Geneva Pact, the talks, and collapse of Joseph P. Laniel's French government.

It appeared obvious that the intent and nature of the free world resistance to further Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia will be determined to a large extent by the Churchill-Eden-Dulles conferences.

Hagerty announced the White House meeting with this statement: "Some weeks ago the President of the United States invited the prime minister and the foreign secretary of the United Kingdom to spend a weekend at his guest house in Washington."

The invitation was cordially accepted and it has been arranged for the visit to take place during the weekend beginning June 25.

Sen. Fulbright Would Expel McCarthy

SEWANEE, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. William Fulbright said here tonight that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy should be expelled from the U. S. Senate.

The Arkansas senator added he hoped the Senate "gets a chance to vote on that issue this summer."

Fulbright made comments to newsmen here after his delivery of the commencement address at the University of the South.

Fulbright told the graduates of the United States has lost the respect of its allies because of "McCarthyism" and the administration's foreign policy.

And he amplified by saying: "Allowing the junior senator from Wisconsin to remain in our foreign relations has done more harm than any other single factor."

The Arkansas senator was the only senator to vote against granting a proposition to the McCarthy investigation. (Successor to the Senate this year) but he said he would vote against the proposition.

"I had a vote with him," McCarthy on committees before. Therefore I had the opportunity to recognize him a long time ago. And I hope we get a chance to vote on that issue this summer."

Fulbright said: "In his address yesterday to 101 graduates, Fulbright said bitterness a suspicion a kind of primitive ruthlessness quite alien to our traditions has taken root and is spreading."

Our department of state and Protestant churches, the public schools our own Army all have been charged with the cold-blooded Communists with being removed by diabolical citizens."

Fulbright said if people are governed themselves, they should have the knowledge and capacity to think clearly to discriminate between that which is false and that which is true — to recognize a charlatan and a demagogue when they see one."

Fulbright was awarded an honorary doctor of civil laws by the university, which was the Rhodes scholar and former president of the Arkansas Educational Association.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK — The stock market edged ahead today after some hesitancy but in the early afternoon most major divisions were higher.

The extent of the rise was limited, and there were several backward spots. However, the trend ahead was definite.

Clings went to between 1 and 2 points while losses were usually in the small fractions.

The steels, aircrafts and railroads were well out in front as the inspiration for the betterment, while the electrical equipment, building materials and some chemicals were higher.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK — Cotton futures were irregular today. Nearby July contracts, which were under recent liquidating pressure, developed a steadier tone on more active trade covering. Distant months eased.

who has contested the trial, insisting that he wants a reconciliation.

Hahn set the pattern yesterday for much of the testimony to follow when he repeatedly quizzed Miss Hayward on a potential agreement signed by the actress and her then husband-to-be.

She testified that the agreement was signed because she was in love with Barker and he didn't want to get married until he was better fixed financially.

"The document merely relieved him of the financial responsibility of a wife," the actress said, explaining that she was earning $1,700 a week at the time and her finance was out of work.

"He didn't feel he was well enough set to take a wife having no bank accounts and so forth," Miss Hayward said. "I told him I would relieve him of that financial responsibility. I could always take care of myself. The document merely stated that what he earned was his and what I earned was mine."

She now wants the court to rule her two-million-dollar movie contract and $240,000 in assets are not community property. Testimony on business matters provided an anticlimax to opening testimony of Mrs. Lodee Hazel Swain, a maid next door to the Barkers' Sherman Oaks home.

She told of how she was awakened by screams of a nude redhead presumably Miss Hayward, screaming: "Don't kill me! Help! Help!"

Don't kill me "

A man who appeared to be Barker the maid testified, was in hot and threatening pursuit shouting "You're going to sign that deal."

Miss Hayward spent much time on the stand telling of arguments over her husband's late sleeping habits and lack of work.

"I objected to his sleeping so late in the morning sometimes until early afternoon," she said. "When I suggested that he should go out and look for work he replied that he was an actor."

Barker's principal duties around the house she testified were buying groceries, turning the water on the fruit trees buying the newspaper and occasional helping her with lines from movie scripts.

Mrs. Tilman McBrayer entertained with a picnic on Wednesday afternoon for her daughter, Linda.

A copyrighted interview with the magazine U. S. News and World Report, pointed out that every time the Communists seize areas in little wars like Korea and Indochina they not only add to their own power but subtract from the Allies.

The "tough" alternatives, he said, are to accept "a measure of defeat" or take a stand "to prevent that defeat with timely action." He insisted this is not "war-mongering" but a "simple statement of fact."

"If these accretions of power continue each one at our expense," he said, "the time will come when we are in a position so inferior that our very existence and certainly our existence as a major influence in the world will be in the gravest jeopardy."

Carney's remarks were somewhat along the same lines of a speech he made May 27 in New York. That was widely interpreted at the time as a warning that the Allies must be prepared for the possibility of joining in the fighting in Indochina.

So we furnished the house and lived in it and the sheriff has stayed away from our door. We've known happiness and sorrow here. It's become a place much lived in and attained in our minds the permanence we desired.

About a year ago we first heard the state was mounting an attack on us. Goths pushing bulldozers would invade from the west, we were told driving a super-highway through us toward New York. Citizens of arms-bearing age were mustered in meetings of protest where it was impossible to sift wild rumors from military intelligence. The road would go here; it would go there; it would go anywhere.

Some people in the threatened zone of attack wanted to sell but nobody would buy. One fellow stopped painting his house. A few optimistic strategists figured our positions were secured by a large cemetery a half mile forward of us which also protected a wide azimuth of our left flank. But a pessimist said he had it straight from the State House in Trenton that the highway would go all the way around the cemetery and then hit us.

Everybody felt that a good clean death — like having the highway driven straight through you — was far better than the crippling wound of the highway encroaching your property. Nobody, in short, wanted to live by the side of the road and be a friend to man.

Well I wish I could report a courier had just galloped in from Trenton with a message there never will be a highway coming this way. Actually as we were saying last night on the porch, life isn't like that.

Yet I can report some good news. Nobody has talked about the highway in several months now. That fellow has finished painting his home. I have spread much fertilizer and top soil on our lawn. Life goes on.

The good news around here, I think, is that people now feel absolute permanence is too much to ask in this or any time. No one is bitter or hysterical about it any longer. The sense of permanence must be in us and not in our house. If it hits us we'll move and begin again somewhere else. If it misses us wide we'll stay. And we said on the porch last

Psychiatric Test of Young Liquor Drinker

CHICAGO (AP) — Psychiatric tests were scheduled today for a whiskey-drinking, cigarette-smoking 11-year-old boy after an inquest into deaths of seven persons in a tenement fire started by a discarded match.

Nine other persons were injured in the fire Friday night. Marion Gregory, who first told police two men wearing baseball caps set the fire with gasoline in a stairwell rubbish heap, demonstrated Saturday to police how a match he flipped into the stairwell after lighting the cigarette started the blaze.

The boy's father Lewis was locked up after telling his son, "Tell them nothing." Police investigators quoted the father as saying he allowed Marion to drink whiskey and bought the child cigarettes.

night, if it creases us we might just live beside the highway and be a friend to man.

Separated Twins Doing Fine

LEEWARDEN, Holland (AP) — Siamese twin girls separated in a 70-minute operation Saturday were reported doing well today. The 7-month-old babies, Folkje and Tjitska, were joined at the abdomen for a distance of 3½ inches but had completely separate sets of organs. Their surgeon said the operation had proved the girls could live separately.

Scientists say man as a species is less than a million years old.

Only Action Can Stop Reds, Carney Vows

WASHINGTON (UP) — Adm. William Galbraith said today the United States must either take action to stop the Communists or let their piecemeal conquest of their country in the Pacific jeopardize.

Chief of naval operations Galbraith said he believes a major war is "imminent or inevitable" although "some fool could start it."

He added, with an eye on the crisis that the free world is involved in a "cold" war in which "any involvement could increase the danger to a general conflict."
